

J's Candles was started in November 2007 after I suffered a "brain haemorrhage" and needing to find a hobby to help me relax, I decided on making candles.

I fell in love with the art of making the candles and found the individualism of each one romantic and intriguing". Working with natural Palm & Soy wax is beautiful and calming in all aspects and as such is passed on through my candles to person who takes them home.

I have for a very long time believed that a candle fragrance and colour combination should be what the individual person desires, and not what I think they should be.

My motto:

Designed by You - Handmade by Jill

I do off a "off the shelf" range which is available for those who want something quickly; these have been chosen purely on the high customer request for the particular colour / fragrance combination.

Each candle is hand made to order

- Votives
- Pillars
- container
- Melt
- Tealight and
- Reed diffuser

Candles for special occasions:

- Births
- Birthdays
- Engagements
- Weddings
- Memorials

I look forward to seeing you all at this year's festival. Come along and visit my stall, choose the candle that is to your liking and take them home to enjoy.

You will be able to have your reed diffuser fragranced with the fragrance of your choice on the day and have it made while you wait.
